Ca' d’Zan

The Ringlings’ dazzling palatial mansion is a tribute to the American Dream and reflects the splendor and romance of Italy. Ca' d'Zan is 200-foot long encompassing approximately 36,000 square feet with 41 rooms and 15 bathrooms. The structure is five stories and has a full basement. The pinnacle of the structure is the 81-foot Belvedere tower with an open-air overlook and a high domed ceiling.

In April 2002, comprehensive restoration and conservation was completed on Ca' d'Zan. The six year, $15 million initiative restored the mansion to the era of Mable Ringling.

General Collection

Click the title to find it in the library catalog

---

Electronic Resources

Florida State University Architecture Databases

Museum Resources

http://www.ringling.org/cadmansion.aspx

For further assistance please contact us at library@ringling.org.